

Cities of the Future – Thursday, 13 November

Time	Brisbane Room
8.00am – 8.55am	Session 1 – The global challenges for new world cities Two leading thinkers on the future of cities discuss the trends in economics, demographics and technology, and how these will impact on city design and social policy. 8am – Presentations, followed by panel discussion: Alan Berube, Deputy Director, Brookings Institution, US Dr Stefan Hajkowicz, Principal Scientist, Strategy and Foresight, CSIRO, Australia
8.55am – 9.45am	Session 2 – Building sustainable cities in global property markets Global urbanisation and the digital revolution have created opportunities for a group of emerging cities to become the most populous, productive and connected. To ensure these cities remain sustainable and resilient, what practices need to be adopted to provide environmental, social and economic quality for both current and future generations? How does “good real estate” contribute to driving overall city success? 8.55am – Presentation: Rosemary Feenan, International Director, JLL, UK 9.15am – Panel discussion: Rosemary Feenan, International Director, JLL, UK Prof Cam Middleton, Laing O’Rourke Professor of Construction Engineering, University of Cambridge, UK Brian Haratsis, MacroPlan Dimasi’s Founder and Executive Chairman, Australia
9.45am – 10.05am	Break
10.05am – 10.45am	Session 3 – Competing for talent in a global economy Cities compete to attract many kinds of people in many different ways: visitors/business and leisure tourists; students; talented workers; and skilled migrants. How are these new world cities attracting, educating and integrating their way to more dynamic and talented labour markets? 10.05am – Thought starters followed by Q&A: Ratna Omidvar, Executive Director, Global Diversity and Migration Exchange (GDMX), Toronto, Canada Andrew Boraine, CEO, Western Cape Economic Development Partnership, Cape Town, South Africa Jordi William Carnes, CEO, Barcelona Tourism Board, Spain
10.45am – 11.50am	Session 4 – Innovation and entrepreneurship in a global economy New world city leaders will delve into their efforts to create local innovation eco-systems, linked strategically to national and global innovation networks and systems. 10.45am – Thought starters followed by panel discussion: Mateu Hernández, CEO, Barcelona Global, Spain Dr Ilse Treurnicht, CEO, MaRS Discovery District, Toronto, Canada Chris Whelan, CEO, Accelerate Cape Town, South Africa Patrick McVeigh, General Manager, Economic Growth, Auckland Tourism Events and Economic Development (ATEED), New Zealand John Aitken, CEO, Brisbane Marketing, Australia
11.50am – 12.50am	Break

Cities of the Future –

Thursday, 13 November

Time	Main Auditorium Program
12.50pm – 3.05pm	Opening session – The global context MC – Haslinda Amin Leading global city thinkers share their insights on major trends facing cities as they look to the future. In the globalised economy of today and tomorrow, international flows of capital, trade in goods and services, innovation, and people are growing and moving more rapidly than ever. What should cities be thinking about as they compete for economic opportunity in this increasingly competitive environment? How do global trends create opportunity for emerging cities and what kinds of cities now attract talent, decision-makers and capital? 12.50pm – Introduction: The Hon. Deb Frecklington, Assistant Minister to the Premier 12.55pm – Moderated Q&A: Jing Ulrich, Managing Director and Vice Chairman of Asia Pacific at JPMorgan Chase “Business perspective: Asian economies and commodities” 1.30pm – Opening speech: Brisbane Lord Mayor Graham Quirk “Australia’s new world city – from ambition to reality” 1.40pm – 10-minute discourse: Rosemary Feenan, International Director, JLL, UK “The globalisation of capital and how international trends are changing the way we work, live and shop” 1.50pm – 10-minute discourse: Alan Berube, Deputy Director, Brookings Institution, US “Globalisation of trade, industry and intellectual property, and how this creates opportunities for emerging cities” 2.05pm – Panel discussion: The forces shaping new world cities – moderated by Haslinda Amin “What are the main forces shaping cities and their global networks? What do cities need to do to be globally competitive?” Thought starters: Dr Stefan Hajkowicz, Principal Scientist, Strategy and Foresight, CSIRO, Australia Andrew Boraine, CEO, Western Cape Economic Development Partnerships, Cape Town, South Africa Other panellists: Rosemary Feenan, International Director, JLL, UK Alan Berube, Deputy Director, Brookings Institution, US 2.50pm – 10-minute discourse: Dr Jaana Remes, Partner, McKinsey Global Institute, US/Finland (beamed in from San Francisco) “Emerging market cities and the implications for the global economy – attributes of the 600 fastest-growing cities in the world”
3.05am – 3.25pm	Break
3.25pm – 4.30pm	Session 2 – New world cities: Capitalising on global trends MC – Ray Martin Leaders from several new world cities share their efforts to compete for economic opportunity. Specifically they will discuss their cities’ efforts to position themselves to participate in, and capitalise on, global flows in innovation, talent, trade, and investment. 3.25pm – Introduction: MC (TBC) 3.30pm – Towards New World Cities: Dr Greg Clark, Theme Chair, UK (pre-record from London) “What are new world cities? How do they fit into the global economy?” 3.40pm – Panel discussion: How new world cities are asserting their global position Three-minute thought starters + discussion: Mateu Hernández, CEO, Barcelona Global, Spain Dr Ilse Treurnicht, CEO, MaRS Discovery District, Toronto, Canada Chris Whelan, CEO, Accelerate Cape Town, South Africa Ratna Omidvar, Executive Director, Global Diversity Exchange (GDx), Ted Rogers School of Management, Ryerson University, Canada Patrick McVeigh, General Manager, Economic Growth, Auckland Tourism Events and Economic Development (ATEED), New Zealand
4.30pm – 5pm	Session 3 – New world cities: A window into the future MC – Ray Martin Industry experts from the worlds of design, environment and mobility share their insights into how new ways of building cities and moving people within them will create a new set of challenges and opportunities for cities in the future. 4.30pm – 5-minute thought starters and discussion: Professor Jason Pomeroy, Principal, Pomeroy Studio, Singapore (beamed in from Venice) Christian Steiner, Head of Mobility Services, BMW, Germany 4.55pm – Close theme and thanks: Alan Berube, Deputy Director, Brookings Institution, US
5pm – 5.30pm	The Final Word MC – Chen Lei, Chief Anchor, International Channel Shanghai 5pm: Australian Federal Government representative 5.08pm: Queensland State Government representative 5.16pm: Brisbane Lord Mayor Graham Quirk 5.30pm: Close

